LIFE INSURANCE.
No. 14, Exchange Street, PORTLAND.
LITTLE & BROTHER are Agents for the Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York.

In this Company the whole of the net profits are divided personally among the insured, and the amount is endorsed on the Policy, and the whole amount is payable on the death of the party to his or her representatives, thus combining the advantage of a Saving Institution of the best kind with Life Insurance, by which those who are not wealthy may provide for their families, and capitalists find a safe and profitable investment.

The advantages of such insurance to the individual, to his family and to the community, are obvious. A person 30 years of age, by paying $131 annually, may secure $100 to his family should he die within the year, and one in his 40th year may do the same by paying $1 69.

A young man 21 years of age, without capital, by paying $3.00 may obtain a Policy for $1000 for 1 year, and thereby procure means to begin business, purchase tools or a library, or complete an education. We have already made Policies for such purposes.

A creditor may give himself additional security for a debt due him by insuring on a debtor's life. In England where investments pay not over 3 per cent. per annum, the profits to assured have been very great, as the following will show, viz. a person at the age of 30 effected insurance on his life for $1000, at the expiration of 30 years by the death of the insured, the accumulated profits together with the sum insured, gave him about $3000. In this Company the investments (already large) are now paying 5 per cent., and the probabilities that the results with this office will be equally favorable, if not more so.

No person having a family who is able to save $1.00 per month, should delay a moment, to obtain a Policy at this office.

AN ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE OF MAINE.

On the 7th of Feb. last, the State Convention, assembled at Augusta, adopted the following resolution—

Resolved, That Nicholas G. Norcross and William Paine of Bangor, John Otis of Hallowell, Rufus Buck of Bucksport and Phineas Barnes of Portland, be a committee to draw up an address to the people of Maine, setting forth the resources of the State and the manner in which these resources have been crippled by the policy of the party now in power, by which the young men and women of the State have been driven to seek employment in other States, and capital which would otherwise have been introduced has been forced to seek investment elsewhere, and to report such address to the mass State Convention.

The following address was accordingly reported to the mass convention at Augusta on the 26th of June last, and ordered to be printed.

FELLOW CITIZENS. On examining the subject committed to us by the Convention of Feb. last, we find that it extends over a large and fruitful field of facts and arguments deeply interesting to the people of Maine. Indeed, it is impossible, within the ordinary limits of a public address, to set forth with suitable comments, the various important statistics, which come fairly within the scope of the resolution under which we address you. We must therefore limit our remarks to the general economy of the State, and to such of our resources as have been almost wholly overlooked and neglected.

Public and Private Economy.

Political economy is generally considered so hard to learn that we are apt to leave it to those who profess to be statesmen or scholars. But a high station is not necessary in order to get a good view of the true economy of a State, and a common pair of eyes may see into it without the spectacles of book-learning. It differs but little from that of a private family. The best economy of a household, extended to a whole community, is the best political economy. Any man of common sense and some experience in life may judge of one as well as of the other; and in this country it is every man's interest and duty to judge of both. For besides the interest we all have in being well governed, every voter has also the duty to perform of governing well. Measures of government which go home to the hearts and the hearts, to the fortunes and the lives of seventeen millions of people, are determined and controlled by the voters of the country. Whether these measures shall be such as to diffuse prosperity and joy or deal destruction and misery through the land, whether they shall conciliate the good spirit of peace, or rouse the evil spirit of war, depends upon the judgment and pleasure of those who pronounce their verdict through the ballot box. It was said by the last administration, in 1837, that the people are apt to expect too much of government. If this only means that we expect more than we get, it is true, whenever government is obtained, not by qualifications for it, but by false pretences or by chance. To expect either justice or mercy from any such government, is, as we have too much cause to know, expecting too much, and much more than we get. Indeed, the same administration that laid down this theorem, proceeded to prove it by a series of experiments, so striking, that the people throughout the country gladly took the first opportunity, which came in November, 1840, to acknowledge a perfect demonstration of it. But if it means that we expect more than we have a right to, it is an absolute libel upon us, for we have a perfect right to the utmost diligence, fidelity, good economy and sound policy in the administration of our public affairs, and we never expect anything more. Have these virtues been exhibited by the dominant party of this State, in their own legislation, and in their influence upon that of the United States? If they have, and there is no hope of improvement, let us be contented to know that the best we can do is to creep along as we have done.

Electoneering you are well aware, has been conducted not only in this State, but throughout the country, by a senseless cry of party names, having nothing to do with political or economical principles, nor with your rights, nor with your interests. Do you believe that this outcry about Democracy, come from men of the same principles with those whose name these self-styled Democrats so shamelessly profane? Pray just look at them, and see what likeness there is between them and the patriots who, though dead, yet speak to the heart of every true democrat and sincere lover of his country. What a contrast of pictures! You may know them by this, that while true democracy has a single eye to the greatest good of the greatest number of people, sham democracy has one eye to the greatest number of votes for the smallest possible quantity of qualifications, and the other fixed upon the spoils of victory.

But the people are beginning to judge of parties, not by their names, but by what they do and what they neglect to do. In electing an agent to manage your own business you do not concern yourselves about his name, nor do you much regard his pretensions. You look for a man who understands the business and will attend to it. If public agents were chosen by the same rule, the people would be better served. Examine and decide for yourselves what claims the measures of each party have to your support. The Whigs ask this of you, and if their policy will not stand the test of the most careful examination, they are as ready as you are to abandon it and to adopt a better policy, if it can be pointed out.

You have a farm, a part of which is good soil for tillage, and a part fit only for pasture. Now if you should turn your tillage into pasture, and attempt to raise your crops from the pasture land, what would your neighbors think of you as a farmer? What would you think of yourself?

Again, if your neighbor had a first rate water power on his farm, the only one within ten or twenty miles, and would neither sell it nor use it himself for running a mill or machinery, though by means of such improvement, he might sell his land for as much per acre as the whole would bring without it, what opinion should you have of his prudence and economy?

Again, if you should see a farmer raising only one or two articles and hauling his surplus of them from 10 to 50 miles to exchange for others, when his farm would easily produce every kind of crop that he wanted, what would you think of his judgment?

You may not be able to find in private life a solitary case of either of these three examples of economy. But you may find in public life, in the policy of the dominant party in your own State, the grievous case of all three combined. It is by just such mismanagement, as we shall proceed to prove, that the energies of this noble State have been crippled, its means wasted, its resources neglected.

Discoveries and Inventions—How They Operate on Business.

The great discoveries and inventions which we are constantly hearing of, and which we see and feel the effects of, have made, and are daily making, vast improvements in the condition of mankind. States, Communities, and individuals, all acknowledge the wonderful change which has taken place in their relations with each other and in the intercourse and business of life, by those peaceful conquests which make the powers of nature subject to the government of man, subservient to his will and tributary to his wants. Rail roads and Steamboats have already made so great an alteration in the modes of business and in the relations of different sections of this country, that as a matter of self defense, comfort and convenience, every State in the Union should avail itself as far as possible of such advantages. These means of transporting goods, of travelling, and of interchanging knowledge, all with the greatest ease and rapidly, and at the smallest expense, bring into close connection the most distant parts of our own country, and indeed all parts of the world, strengthen and multiply the bonds of Union, promote a good understanding and good will among men, make neighbors of them all, and hasten the time, as we trust, when peace on earth shall universally and permanently prevail.

Address to the People of Maine.

We commence to day the publication of the admirable address to the people of Maine which was reported to the State Mass Convention at Augusta. It is a document of great power and will be deeply interesting to every man and woman in Maine who will give it an attentive reading.

We ask for it the attention of all our readers. We commend its important facts and solid arguments to our political opponents—to every man who feels an interest for the welfare of Maine, assuring them that it contains facts and principles with which they should become acquainted, expressed in an elegance of style rarely equalled.

The Whig mass meeting at Lewiston on Thursday next will be addressed by Messrs Evans, Little, Morse and other distinguished speakers.

Polk and Texas—Manifestations in New York—The 'Democracy' speaking out.

Every day brings with it a deeper shade over the prospects of the loco party.

We call attention to the following call published in the Rochester Democrat as an indication of what is taking place in New York, and of the influences at work upon the minds of all the honest men in that party, throughout the country.

The editor of the Democrat says he is personally acquainted with nearly every gentleman who has signed this call, and that he knows them as among the most respectable and worthy in that community.

Democratic Convention Meeting. The Democratic Republicans of Monroe County who are opposed to the 'two-third rule' adopted by the National Convention, by which a minority are enabled to dictate to a majority of the party—all those who believe in a strict construction of the Constitution, and are opposed to the exercise of doubtful powers, and who agree with Jefferson that the Constitution does not provide for the annexation of foreign territory to this Union—those who are opposed to the assumption of State Debts and of the Debts of foreign Nations, and who are unwilling that the extension and perpetuation of Slavery should be made part and parcel of the creed of Democracy—are invited to meet at the Court-House in the city of Rochester on Saturday, August 3d, 1844, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Mattoon, John Keep, F. J. Clark, Benj. Harrison, A. Worcester, John C. Rhine, Bernard Schaeffer, John S. Blossom, David Lyon, John Jones, John Scott Perinton, Jarvis Sherman Henrietta, Geo. L. Beckwith Henrietta.

At about the same time this call was published the New York Plebeian, a strong Polk and Texas paper published the following letter signed by the editor of the New York Post a loco paper and by other men of eminence in that party:

P. S.—A copy of this circular has been sent to the following gentlemen:—Michael Hoffman, Albert H. Tracy, Hiram Gardner, Addison Gardner, Samuel Selden, Henry Selden, Ashley Sampson, J. Osborn, Hiram Gray, Jared N. Wilson, James M. Smith, Thos. G. Talbot, Wm. Allen, Freeborn Jewett, Daniel Chandler, Hiram Denny, John Tracy, Jabez D. Hammond, John I. DeGraff, N. L. Benton, Preston King, Ramsom Gillel, Samuel Young, L. Stetson, James R. Spencer, David L. Seymour, David Ruel, Harmanus Bleecker, A. C. Flagg, Robt. McLellan, R. D. Davis, James Powers, Archibald Niven, Nathaniel Jones, John W. Lawrence—and will be sent to any other person you may wish.

The Plebeian denounces the Post and the signers of the letter, and declares that the annexation of Texas is the issue before the people—a great and glorious issue by which the "Democracy" must abide.

The Post in reply says it is not to be intimidated or driven from its course and publishes the foregoing call of the Monroe County democracy and the following extract of a letter received in answer to the confidential circular as indications of the sentiments of a large portion of the party:

"Already in this country men of character and influence, who have always acted with us hitherto, have avowed their determination to abandon Mr Polk and vote for Mr Birney, or else refrain from voting at all, while a deep sense of dissatisfaction with the course of the Baltimore Convention pervades the minds of many. These are not your brawling pot-house politicians, but quiet and reflecting men who are accustomed to think and act independently. Such a letter as that recommended in your circular, would be calculated not only to prevent the feeling of alienation and disgust from extending, but would perhaps bring back some, if not all of those who, under the influence of a temporary exasperation, have for the present left our ranks.

In reference to the Monroe County meeting the Post says that "unless those who are concerned in getting it up can see some way of giving their support to the Democratic nominations, without surrendering their integrity on the question, they will not go to the polls at the approaching election" and that "unless some rallying ground, some point of union and agreement is presented to the Democratic party, we are broken up and defeated without remedy." Those who resist this compromise and insist upon stuffing the measure of annexation down the throats of the party, are the enemies and betrayers of the very cause they pretend to support. The feeling to which we allude is not confined to the two counties we have named, but is diffused deeply and broadly through the whole interior, and cannot be disregarded without incurring destruction to the party."

Now it must be evident to all considerate men that the attempt to vote for Polk and Dallas and oppose the measures they were selected for carrying out must utterly fail because it the managers who secured the nomination of these men on account of their measures get them elected they would not care if a thousand protests accompanied the votes. This these men will see and act accordingly. We rejoice in the movement on account of the new and strong evidence it furnishes that political managers can not succeed in enforcing party drill upon men to the approval of measures disastrous to the country. Free trade and Texas are not relished.

Calculation of Votes. To the Editor of the Whig & Courier.

Many persons have made calculations as to what the result of the present presidential campaign will be; and with your permission, I propose to submit mine. I do not, however, expect the result will be just as I represent it; but I give it as my opinion, after considerable observation and comparison of the votes given in the several States in years past, and of the apparent state of feeling among the people at the present time, as indicated in various ways, that the result will be quite as favorable for the whig cause as I represent it. Whether or not it will be so, a few months will determine.

I will place in one column those States which I think are certain to go for Clay; and in another those which are likely to go for Polk, and in a third, those which are at present are doubtful.

Clay	Polk	Doubtful.
Massachusetts 12	N. Hampshire, 6	Virginia 17
Conn. elect 4	M. Maine 9	Penn. 26
R. Island 4	S. Carolina 9	Louisiana 6
Vermont 6	A. Alabama 9	Indiana 12
New York 36	M. Mississippi 6	Michigan 5
New Jersey 7	Arkansas 3
Ohio 23	Missouri 7	66
Maryland 2	Illinois 9
N. Carolina 11		58
Georgia 10
Tennessee 14
Kentucky 12
Delaware 3
		151

Of the States put down as certain for Clay, the one he will be most likely to lose is Tennessee. But I believe that State is safe. Clay is very popular there, and he will have the whole strength of the party to sustain him, and there are few States which have abler whig stump speakers than that.

Illinois I have put down to Polk, but I should not be surprised if it goes whig.

Of the doubtful States, I think Pennsylvania and Louisiana are most likely to go for Clay, and Michigan and Virginia for Polk. If Mr. Van Buren had received the nomination, I think he would have carried Pennsylvania, I do not think Polk can do it.

It will be seen that my figuring, even should all the doubtful States go for Polk, elects Clay. If any one will shew why these I have put down to him, are not likely to vote as I have supposed they will, I should like to see the reasons.

Yours, A Subscriber.

James A Jordan of Hartland was instantly killed on the 21st inst, by a blow from the falling of the part of a barn frame.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Express says, that in Columbiana the Banner County of the State of Ohio, the Democrats, as they style themselves, have repudiated Polk and Dallas. They have determined to run Mr Van Buren for hazards in that County, leaving it to Alabama and three or four other States to pay off Messrs Polk and Dallas what little, if any thing, is found to be due them. I expect we shall see that it is a mere epitome of that which will be found to be a general though perhaps silent repudiation, chargeable upon the great mass of the Democratic family. In Virginia, too, we have similar indications. A staunch Democrat, who has just returned from a visit to several parts of that State, said to a friend (without any intention of having it repeated) that it was in vain to hope that Polk and Dallas could carry Virginia; that it was impossible to get up any enthusiasm in their favor; that the people could not be enlisted; that Mr Clay would beyond doubt, carry the State; and that he would be our next President, without doubt, a conclusion at which every man must arrive who looks at the signs of the times.

The New Orleans Bulletin states that a law for raising $4,000,000 for the campaign against Texas has already passed; that General Canizozo has been appointed commander-in-chief and General Woll second in command of the army, which is to consist of 30,000 men; that a large amount of the munitions of war, &c., ordered from the U. S. and England, had been received at Vera Cruz; and it was believed that as soon as it could be forwarded and distributed at the proper points, the whole army would be put under marching orders.

The Boston Mail states that on Thursday night Mr David A. Boynton, keeper of a grocery store in Boston was attacked, knocked down and robbed. A man near by succeeded in capturing one of the robbers who gives his name as John Adams but will give no other account of himself. Mr B. had $700 with him and a gold watch. He was not much injured.

The Mechanics of Maine are to hold a great convention at Portland on the twentieth of August when several orations will be delivered and business of general interest to their social and educational elevation transacted. The Portland Mechanic Association contemplate having their triennial festival on the twenty second instant. Taken together the occasion will be one of much interest.

The Odd Fellows are to have a great Celebration at Portland on the 23d of August. The Hon. William Pitt Fessenden will deliver an oration on the occasion.

We shall conclude the publication of the Address to the People of Maine on Wednesday probably and shall forward the daily papers containing it to all the whig papers in the State in order to enable them to publish it at the earliest day practicable.

Governor Ford of Illinois has made a requisition for 500 U. S. troops to be stationed in that State to protect the people.

An explosion of Dupont's powder works on the Brandywine took place on Wednesday morning, killing two workmen.

Not so Fast.

The Bangor Democrat noticing the fact that Mr Evans has promised to speak at various Whig mass meetings, says his time is out in 1845 and he is trying to get a Legislature chosen which will re-elect him. The Democrat's memory must be bad. Only a week or two since it told its readers that Senator Fairfield's term was out in 1845, and that is true. Mr Evans's time is not out till 1847; the next Legislature cannot touch him. It is Gov. Fairfield's time that is out next March. Mr Evans then so far as a senatorial election is concerned is laboring for the Whig cause, and not for himself. But how is it with Senator Fairfield? We see he has been already on the stump. The Democrat seems to be very apprehensive that Mr Evans will do damage. Can't the Democrat prevail upon Mr Woodbury to meet him and have a public discussion? We dare say Mr Evans would not make any objections.

Perhaps the New Hampshire Senator will be able to explain his assertion in his published speech which has just come to hand in the Democrat, that the consumer of every pound of salt, pays "enough as a tax to buy three pecks more."

While the Democrat gets about the explanation it may be well for it to state whether our good friend Col. Parks, who is now delivering political speeches over the State, may not have an eye to his election to the Senate next winter. These sharp sighted people probably understand the motives of their friends.

IMPOSITION

Citizens of Bangor & vicinity Take Notice.

THERE is hardly an instance on record where a man of any enterprise has commenced in business and with great exertion and expense has become universally known—but some one whose intellect being so obtuse that he cannot invent an original idea of his own, has attempted to impose upon the public by adopting the same name, or raising a sign of similar character. This mode of imposition deserves the severest reprimand from the mouth of every honest man.

I have been led to these remarks by noticing numerous advertisements in Bangor papers headed Main Pillar of OAK HALL. I would most respectfully inform the citizens of Bangor and vicinity that I have no branch whatever of my establishment nor agency in any part of the United States. The above advertiser also states that he has withdrawn himself from OAK HALL, Boston. To that I can only say that my servant driver of Oak Hall Express, in Boston and vicinity, has withdrawn himself and I have substituted a Gentleman of Color in his place and with his new livery suit and beautiful steed is the admiration of all beholders.

Issued this day from Oak Hall, City of Boston, 22d of July, 1844.

IT HAS BEEN ESTIMATED THAT UPWARDS OF 200,000 Persons
Visited that splendid Edifice
OAK HALL,
SINCE ITS ERECTION, AND THAT 150,000

HAVE BEEN CLOTHED AT THIS POPULAR
Tailoring Establishment.
THE reasons why Clothing can be sold at this Establishment so much LOWER than at any other places are these:
First—Our retail sales are about ten times the amount of any other establishment in Boston.
Second—We do a sole Cash Business, consequently the purchaser does not have to pay for the defaulting debtor's clothes; and all the genteel class of trade that have been in the habit of ordering their clothes up town, and their bill sent once or twice a year, have found that they can make a saving of ABOUT ONE HALF, by cash down, at OAK HALL, and can get a garment made in as good style, or a little better.
If I were to judge by some samples worn, which sit upon the human form divine, as though Nature's journeymen had made them, AND NOT MADE THEM WELL, I should say that with all this immense trade of Custom Work, and a large quantity sold daily ready-made, I am enabled to sell at Extra low Price.
All our custom work is made by Journeymen Tailors, and we employ none other than the MOST SCIENTIFIC CUTTERS.
To give the public an idea of the extent of my business, I will merely state that I have at this time in my employ
8 Fashionable Cutters.
3 Trimmers;
1 Cashier and Book keeper;
1 Paymaster;
15 Salesmen;
1 Express and Driver;
3 Runners;
50 Journeymen expressly for our nice custom work, and the astonishing number of 2000 Operatives, on this work, adapted for Spring and Summer.
Wholesale dealers will find at this establishment every description of Ready-Made Clothing, IN ANY QUANTITY.
Gentlemen will recollect we ask no more at retail, and that we have an endless variety of
RICH PIECE GOODS,
ALWAYS ON HAND,
which will be made to measure in that style of elegance for which this establishment has become so celebrated.
It is not to a town, or city, or a state, or a nation, that we our addresses confine. All our plans are mature, and our efforts are great. O'er all climates of the earth without rival to shine!
To all nations we speak! for all nations we toil! And we look for support in this glorious strife; We resolve that no obstacle ever shall foil The grand aim of our heart, while we linger in life!
We discard all the snares and the frauds of the trade We lift up the standard of spotless reform; And we trust that so long as that standard's displayed, The smile of the world will defend from the storm. We repose in the public a confidence strong, And believe that they will not neglect our endeavor; The success we have met has encouraged us long, And we thank and assure them 'we'll merit it ever.'
